

WE NOMINATE

Donald Husted Riddle, a Princetonian for the past decade and a former member of Princeton Township's Board of Education, who this week dominated the community's educational news with his appointment as President of The City University of New York's John Jay College of Criminal Justice. This remarkable institution, founded in 1964 as an outgrowth of undergraduate programs in police science offered in City College's Baruch School of Business and Public Administration, now has an enrollment in excess of 2,000 students, the great majority of whom are full-time officers of the New York City Police Department.

The 47-year old Riddle, widely known as a political scientist with deep interests in American national government, political parties, legislatures and political economy, views John Jay as "a primary resource for helping to meet one of the most crucial of our urban problems as well as one of the most interesting institutions of higher education in the country." He points out that John Jay relates its academic programs to the development of the "higher degree of professionalization in police work" required by society's new demands upon the police, including knowledge of the social sciences and the capacity to adopt an array of technological devices to police work.

Prior to helping launch John Jay as the only college in the nation devoted exclusively to the study and development of the criminal justice system, the energetic Riddle, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., was for seven years director of research for Rutgers University's Eagleton Institute of Politics. His background embraces teaching posts at Hamilton and Douglass Colleges and Princeton University and such far-ranging assignments as staff member in the Office of former United States Senator Paul H. Douglas and a consultant to both the

New York State Commission on the Constitutional Convention and the New York State Special Committee on Constitutional Revision and Simplification.

Riddle, the father of 'teen-age twin daughters and now responsible for the implementation of a master plan under which John Jay's enrollment is expected to reach the 10,000-mark within five years, is a prolific writer in his areas of specialization. His latest work is a high school text co-edited with Robert S. Cleary, "Political Science in the Social Studies." Among the earlier works were "The Truman Committee: A Study in Congressional Responsibility," two volumes he edited or co-authored, "The Problems and Promise of American Democracy" and "American Society in Action," and a series of monographs and articles.

Some eight years after he was graduated from Newton (Pennsylvania) High School as the highest ranking boy in his class, Riddle enrolled at Princeton University under the Program for Servicemen. The interval between school and college had been almost evenly divided between pre-war industrial engineering work and four years (1942-1946) of outstanding service with the U.S. Air Force. It took this former Navigator-Bombardier just three years to qualify for his Princeton degree with Phi Beta Kappa honors and to earn the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship which led to his master's and doctoral degrees at Princeton.

For undertaking the direction of pioneering programs of the utmost significance to a nation understandably engrossed with the "problems of the cities," for sensing that "education in a country such as ours is a branch of statesmanship," for the contributions he has already made as Dean of the Faculty and Acting President of John Jay College; he is our nominee as

ONE PLANNING BOARD?
Pros and Cons. During the next warm summer weeks, The Borough will wind up the new zoning ordinance that sets in motion last year's Borough Master Plan.
The Township, having passed all of its own new Master Plan except the road section, will push for completion of final road studies by September.

September... thoughtful Princeton citizens will recall that, after three years ago, in September, 1965, the Dilley report on municipal consolidation of the two Princetons said flatly that Borough and Township should do their planning together and not separately.

In the year since that town after 1965, the Dilley report (named for its executive director, Robert V. Dilley) rejected actual legal union of the two Princetons for the time being. But it did recommend that some things be consolidated (Boards of Health, for example) and it did recommend joint master planning. On a level of coordination that has not been achieved to date, adding the eager hope that a joint board consisting of the two Princetons, might be the nucleus for a genuinely regional planning board.

On the Site. The committee also suggested that one resident professional planning consultant would be a lot more efficient than two — a consultant who would have a Nassau Street office and be available at the lift of a telephone.

The Borough's planner is Raymond & May Associates of White Plains, New York; the Township's is Kendree and Shepherd of Philadelphia. If a joint Borough-Township planning board were established, individual Borough and Township boards would continue, and each municipality could continue to have its own consultant, if it wished.

The Township wants a joint board and a single resident planner. The Borough does not.

Liaison between the two planning boards occurs only when specific problems arise. Informal liaison is maintained because the two chairmen,

In 1946, Township Spurned Borough Planners

"The hottest spat dated to date!" That's what TOWN TOPICS said 22 years ago about the proposal to form a joint Borough-Township planning board.

In those days, the Borough wanted joint planning and the Township didn't. Now, it's the other way around. After a steamy summer of argument, starting early in June, 1946, Township Committee slapped down Borough Council and voted against a Joint Planning Board, 3-0. (The figure is "correct." Chairman B. Franklin Bunn and his two Committeemen colleagues. The Township was smaller then.)

It all began that June when Borough Council passed an ordinance approving participation in a joint planning board. Borough Mayor Minor J. Morgan Jr. assured his constituents that the governing bodies of the two municipalities would still retain complete control over planning.

The Township, of course, had to pass its own ordinance to get things rolling, and the next month, about 60 Township residents showed up in Township Hall to talk it over.

The July night was warm but feelings toward the Borough were cool indeed. (The Borough was accused of having dead end streets and "pitiful" wading pools.) On a standing vote, 47 opposed a joint planning board and only 21 stood for "yes."

Committee let things simmer down over the rest of the summer. The 3-0 door was shut that October.

Hans K. Sander for the Township and Arthur P. Morgan for the Borough, have lunch to gether about twice a month. Both Mr. Morgan and Mr. Sander wish that members of the other man's board would come around for a visit once in a while, but on meeting nights, nobody crosses the municipal line.

Over half a dozen community-wide problems do cross and re-cross the Borough-Township line, however. At least two low-income public housing for the Township and middle-income housing for both Princetons — were only in embryo three years ago when the Dilley report was completed.

But other problems — circulation roads in and around Princeton, traffic, an expanding regional hospital, an antiquated sewer plant — existed three years ago and are bigger and riper now than they were in 1965.

Me and You. Crab-wise, back-door fashion, the two Princetons do plan and work together.

Roads and sewers are probably the two most obvious examples; in fact, if genuine consolidation ever does occur, its roots (municipal engineers should pardon the metaphor) will probably be in the Joint Sewer Operating Committee. A sub-regional sewer system for six municipalities, including the two Princetons, may be closer to realization than any other regional concept.

The Low Income Plan, which eventually encircle Princeton is being developed by the year-old Regional Development Council, and both Borough and Township have representatives on the R.D.C.

The traffic survey made two years ago by Wilbur Smith Associates for the Borough obviously required the cooperation of the Township because Borough streets have a way of crossing Township streets.

Origin-destination traffic studies, now being made in conjunction with the Township's road Master Plan, have to take Borough traffic into account.

Public housing in the Township will be undertaken with the Borough's public housing authority acting as the Township's agent.

Open space lands in the Township, as the required, in some cases, with Borough participation by the Borough.

School system... joint recreation projects... joint public library.

"We've consolidated the town but aren't admitting it," Mr. Morgan thinks.

"The next problem is already labeled 'joint' and that's middle-income housing," observes Mr. Sander. "You run the risk of not providing enough, or maybe too much, or not the right kind, because you don't know what the other Princeton is doing."

Princeton Community Housing, Inc. will have to run exactly the same course twice before middle-income housing exists in both Borough and Township.

Future and Past. Looking farther into the future, Mr. Sander and the Township Planning Board believe it's essential for the two Princetons to have a single philosophy on business-commercial zones ("Suppose one of us sticks to local shopping services and the other goes in for great big shopping centers?" Mr. Sander muses.)

And a single philosophy toward institutions that are bursting to expand, like Princeton Hospital, Princeton University, the Seminary and Westminster Choir College.

One planning board defines "buffer zones" between gown and town and the other board writes a different definition. The same institution may well have to cope with both, if the

Borough-Township line bisects
its land.

Looking back into the past, Mr. Sander recalls the carbon-copy work Princeton Hospital had to do because its expansions involve both Borough and Township Planning Boards.

Structure. The Township Planning Board chairman recommends a joint Borough-Township planning board consisting of two members each from the Borough Board and the Township Board; the chairman of both boards, one Borough Councilman, one Township Committeeman and both municipal engineers.

Working for this board would be a resident planner, full-time. ("We had to make three trips to Philadelphia to oversee the final phases of the Township Master Plan," Mr. Sander recalls. "If the planner had been in town, everybody would have saved time and money.")

This planner, thinking full-time about Princeton, could be paid on a tax-rateable basis the way other Borough-Township projects are financed, Mr. Sander suggests.

Both Princetons have been financing their planning under New Jersey's "50-40" six year program, and both have now finished their sixth year. Under this program, the state paid 50% or 60,000 of the first year's planning costs, then 40% of the second year's, and so on, reducing its contribution by 10% each year.

The Township has paid about $10 $12,000 a year for six years on planning, including its share of the "50-40," and special studies, like the one on Franklin Avenue.

The Borough has paid almost exactly the same annual amount, estimates Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley, chairman of the Borough Planning Board.

This money, pooled, could pay for the resident planner, Mr. Sander believes.

Borough Doesn't Agree. "There won't be any further talks about a joint planning board," Mr. Morgan states. "The Borough Planning Board is convinced that the three-board idea, with possibly THREE consultants, just wouldn't work. If there were some legal way to combine the work of the two existing planning boards, I think we'd favor that, but THREE boards and a full-time consultant! What would we do with his time? You'd have a 'Parkinson's law' situation where he'd be inventing things to do."

Mr. Morgan adds up the number of Planning Board meetings Borough members have to attend and suggests that meetings of a third board would be just too much.

"I believe the smaller the organization, the better," Mr. Morgan continues. "In the Borough, we're on record as wanting middle-income housing, for example, but looking at the number of people involved! Property owners, Princeton Community Housing, neighbors of any proposed new project—it would be even more complex if this housing were 'joint' with the Township."

"I think you could say that joint planning looks great on paper, but we don't think it would work out too well."

"Now, consolidation, actual consolidation, is inevitable," Mr. Morgan emphasizes, "and I'm all for it!"

For allies, the Township has Princeton University and the League of Women Voters. The University, required to jump back and forth between two Master Plans and two zoning ordinances, has a very sensitive interest in municipal unity at any level.

Ricardo Mestres, the University's financial vice-president and treasurer, wrote Borough and Township mayors two years ago, asking for a joint professional consultant.

The League wrote both planning boards this winter urging discussions of regional planning and commenting,

"More and more it becomes obvious that our only protection lies in enlarging our field of vision in many areas of local planning."

TOWNSHIPICS stands firmly in support of the belief that joint municipal planning is in the community's best interests. If consolidation is "inevitable," as Mr. Morgan says, a regional planning board is the logical forerunner. It should, of course, be a single such advisory body, and not three.

TOPICS Of The Town

SPEED AND SAFETY

Township Topics. Speed, safety and the purchase of a new backhoe-loader occupied Township Committee Monday night.

The state has suggested a blinker at the Route 206-Cherry Valley intersection, warning motorists on both roads of a dangerous intersection. The Township and Montgomery Township have been asked to share 25% of the installation cost: $162.50 each. Princeton Township will pay half the light bill; $50 a year.

Mayor Carl G. Schafer pointed out that, although the blinker merely warns drivers and does not bring them to a halt, the whole intersection will be redesigned into an interchange anyway when the 92A bypass is built.

Residents have protested speeding cars on three Township streets: Mt. Lucas, Cherry Hill and Pretty Brook. A petition signed by 34 residents of Mt. Lucas has been presented to Committee. One resident each from Cherry Hill and Pretty Brook object to fast-driving drivers.

The state will be asked to do a speed-safety survey of Mt. Lucas and Cherry Hill. The Pretty Brook request came in too late for action this week.

The Township's Traffic Safety Committee, concerned about the Magnolia-Abernathy intersection, has requested an ordinance making Littlebrook Magnolia a "through" street from Rollingmead to Overbrook.

section, has requested an ordinance making Littlebrook Magnolia a "through" street from Rollingmead to Overbrook.

BIRTHDAY PARTY: The nation's 192d birthday will be observed here Thursday when the annual Independence Day celebration is staged in Palmer Stadium under sponsorship of Princeton Post 76, American Legion. First rain date: Saturday — one was needed last year. Second rain date: Sunday. Two rain dates have never been necessary since the program was originated more than 40 years ago.

Traffic Safety also asks "no parking" on both sides of the new Franklin Avenue realignment, and promises to write the Borough protesting the ordinance limiting Moore-Jefferson parking to two hours.

More Sewer? The Board of Health has asked for an extension of the sewer along part of Overbrook. One septic system is not functioning. The Board charges, and is polluting Harry's Brook. The Township will sound out the seven affected property-owners to see what they think about a sewer extension.

Another sewer proposal—to extend the sewer along the northern part of Autumn Hill Road—has also been put out for questioning.

The original petition was for a sewer; however, most residents seem to want both sewer and water lines. The Board of Health reports one malfunctioning septic system and three private wells with "some" pollution.

Property-owners will be approached to see what they would like to have the Township do.

A backhoe-loader, the kind you can buy for only $9.98 in any toy store, will be purchased by the Township for $15,700. It will replace the current backhoe-loader, which is ten years old and needs $16,1700 worth of repairs and even that might not put it in shape.

The money will be borrowed and repaid over a five-year period so the load will be evenly spread. The big machine has a year-round job: in snowstorms, the loader is used to fill up the trucks with sand before they make their rounds of Township roads. In summer, the backhoe digs for sewers.

COUNCIL, ANYONE?

Meeting is Tuesday. Grumpy because almost no citizens showed up last month for some important Borough Council business (the salary ordinance, for one thing), Council will go ahead gamely and hold its July meeting next Tuesday at 8 in Borough Hall.

The ordinance up for public hearing this time is the warmed-over traffic ordinance that includes a prohibition of parking around Princeton High School. The ordinance was publicly heard some months ago, passed and then rejected by the state. It was re-introduced because state highway 14 Princeton boys and girls who started summer jobs Monday at Fort Dix, will probably travel back and forth by minibus instead of maxi-bus, as originally planned.

The decision was made in a hurry on Monday when the 16 Trenton youngsters who were going to work at Fort Dix, too, so everyone thought, failed to appear for the early morning bus ride. All Princeton youngsters are accounted for, however.

The cost of a standard charter bus for only 14 youngsters would be a prohibitive $1 a day fare each, according to the parents committee that has been working on transportation.

Last week's last minute appeal for money to finance the bus brought in $201.30 from 19 contributors. The cost of renting the minibus is not yet known.

Each teenager traveling to Fort Dix will pay daily fare, the amount depending on how much can be raised.

TWO GUNMEN ESCAPE
With $15,000 Payroll. Two armed and ski-masked gunmen held up a company payroll check Friday afternoon at a Princeton University construction site on Washington Road and escaped with $15,000.

The victim was Carl Trimbach, 33, of Camden, who drove up about 2 p.m. at the University's mathematics physics complex now under construction. He was carrying the payroll envelopes for 110 employees of the John B. Kelly Construction Company, one of the contractors for the complex.

Before he was able to get out of his car, Township police said, another car drove up behind him and Mr. Trimbach found himself looking up the barrels of a sawed-off shotgun held inches from his temple. Threatening to blow his head off, the gunman demanded the payroll money. After grabbing the money, the gunman and the driver of the car sped off.

Despite the danger of his situation, police said, Mr. Trimbach was able to give them a good description of the getaway car and its license number. Less than an hour later, the car, a 1961 Chevrolet, was recovered on Hartley Avenue by police, who said that the robbers apparently escaped in another car.

It had been stolen from Sta-

Monday was the hottest day since July 13, 1966, recording a temperature of 96. It was two degrees short of the hottest July 1 ever, which occurred in 1945.

There is no immediate relief in sight, although the humidity may be slightly lower. Temperatures around 90 are forecast through Thursday, with the weekend scheduled to bring somewhat cooler weather.

ELDERLY WOMAN VICTIM
Of Freak Accident. A 78-year-old Kingston woman was the victim Thursday morning of a freak accident which occurred in front of Davidson's Market, 172 Nassau Street.

Mrs. James Geddes, 7 Union Street, was walking on Nassau Street accompanied by Mrs. Irene Smith, 2 Lakeview Avenue, Kingston. As they approached the market, a truck driver was unloading foodstuffs from his truck into a David son's cellar by means of metal roller bars.

When Mrs. Geddes stepped between the truck and the roller bar, a box shot out of the truck, struck her, and knocked her down a chute into the cellar. Sgt. Robert Anderson, who investigated the mishap, called for an ambulance. At the advice of a doctor, police said, Mrs. Geddes was admitted. They added that she was "pretty well black and blue, but nothing was broken." The case is still being investigated by Sgt. Anderson. Charges against the truck driver, Charles Saul of Belleville, are pending.

TWO ARE ARRESTED
In Watch Shop Theft. A 29-year-old Borough youth and a 17-year-old Princeton juvenile have been arrested in connection with the June 29 theft of seven watches from Kalmus' Watch Shop, 6½ Chambers Street.

Jerome McGowan, who police said gave as his address 246 John Street, was picked up Friday afternoon by Lt. Michael Carnevale and Sgt. Theodore Lewis, armed with a warrant signed by Detective Charles Harris. Charged with breaking and entering and larceny, McGowan was given a preliminary hearing the same day before Magistrate Theodore T. Tums Jr.

He was sent to Mercer County Jail in lieu of $1,500 bail to await action by a grand jury. The juvenile was released into the custody of his parents, pending future action by Mercer County Juvenile Judge J. Wilson Noden.

While young McGowan was being processed at Borough Headquarters, his father, George McGowan Jr., appeared and demanded to know why his son was being arrested. According to Chief Peter J. McCrohan, as Lt. Carnevale tried to explain, Mr. McGowan began to threaten him and use abusive language.

The incident, which took place outside police headquarters near the door to the violations office, was witnessed by Borough Administrator Robert Money. He demanded that Mr. McGowan be placed under arrest; he would sign the complaint.

He was arrested and charged under the disorderly persons act with using loud and abusive language. He was heard the same day before Magistrate Tams who gave Mr. McGowan a 10-day suspended sentence in the Mercer County Jail.

There's a time for playing and a time for planning . . .

And the time for planning is now. If your children are still in the teeter-totter stage, or even if they're off raising a few playgrounders of their own, there'll never be a better time than now for you to plan for their future. You'll want your estate to be worth as much as possible to them, and the experienced Trust Officers at the First National Bank can show you how to guarantee that. They'd welcome the opportunity to discuss with you and your attorney how the knowledge and skills of our trust team can add to the value and security of your estate. And there's no obligation on your part. Why not get started on that important planning now, by calling the First National Bank. For 75 years, families have found that banking is a friendly thing at Princeton's First National.

News Of The THEATRES

SPECIALS
Film: "A Reading." "A tale in verse and voices" (the description is the author's) called "Brother to Dragons" by Robert Penn Warren will be read next Tuesday and Wednesday in Murray Theatre by the young actors of Summer Intime.

The first "Special Production" of Summer Intime will be given at the usual 8:30 p.m. curtain hour. The production is a "staged reading" and the work itself has been defined as neither play nor poem.

On Monday, Summer Intime will show its second film, "Death of a Salesman" at 8 p.m. in Murray Theatre. This is the adaptation of Arthur Miller's play with Fredric March as Willy Loman and Mildred Dunnock as Linda. Mike McCarty and Cameron Mitchell portray the two sons.

On Monday, July 15, Summer Intime will show the Martin Armstrong film, "Bus Stop." Remaining Monday nighters are "High Noon," "On the Waterfront," "Seabound" and "All the King's Men."

COME TO "OKLAHOMA"
"Traviata" Next. Rain permitting, "Oklahoma" will be sung again this weekend at the Crossing in the Open Air Theatre on the Jersey side.

The musical will be given by the Pennington Players on the Fourth of July and again on July 5 and 6, with a rain date of Sunday, July 7.

Then on Friday and Saturday July 12 and 13, the Princeton Opera Association will take over with Verdi's "La Traviata," rain date Sunday, July 14. Mildred Fling, of the Metropolitan Opera Studio, will sing the leading role of Violetta and Herman Malamud will be Alfredo. Igor Chicago will direct.

Miss Fling has sung leading roles with the Kansas City Lyric Opera, the Central City (Colorado) Opera, the Boston Opera Players and has appeared as guest soloist with such symphony orchestras as the Kansas City Philharmonic and the Albany Symphony.

Mr. Malamud sang last year in the Princeton Opera Association's "La Boheme" in the Open Air Theatre. He made his Carnegie Hall debut two years ago and has sung at the Madison Square Garden "Night of Stars."

WILLIAMS COMES ALIVE
In Intime's "Iguana," Theatre Intime's production of Tennessee Williams' "Night of the Iguana" brings vitality and credibility to a play that can easily be only an exercise in abstract symbolism.

The safest and most legitimate course in staging a Williams' script is to let the audience decipher the playwright's blunt lines for itself, which is what Intime has done, and done well. With a pleasantly loose production, Intime has led off a summer of difficult plays with a marked success.

Director Robert Rockwell brings off well several difficult exchanges between major

"Amphitryon 38"
Jean Girardoux' adaptation from Greek mythology. "Amphitryon 38," will be given this weekend by Summer Intime in Murray Theatre on campus.

Freddie O'Grady will direct the comedy. It will open this Friday, July 5 at 8:30 and will play again this Saturday next Thursday, July 11 and July 18, 19 and 20. Seats may be reserved by calling Intime at 452-3637.

characters: Maxine Faulk's confrontation with Hannah Jekles in the first act and the conversation between Larry Shannon and Hannah in the second. Too tight an adherence to the movement and speech in these spots would have detracted from the beauty of Williams' prose. In less important instances, involving the minor characters, however, little is developed. Miss Fellows' keeping record of her party's travelers' checks, for instance inspires little more than disbelief.

Effect of Cuts Varies. Mr. Rockwell's cuts are in some places justified and in others misguided. One almost walks away with the impression he didn't trust the script. The death of Nonno at the end of the play is a mere question mark, as the lights faded with the poet lecturing in his chair.

Several details were pointlessly sloppy: brown hair is called blonde, thin men are called fat and inaudible noises played a key role in the second act. Excessive movement early in the play is also troublesome. But the details are only minor annoyances detracting from Mr. Rockwell's fine overview and, at times, moving presentation.

Geoff Peterson, as Shannon, the distraught, defrocked Episcopal minister always on the verge of a nervous breakdown, overcomes some self-consciousness in the first act to sing phrases and move confidently in the second, giving fantastic dimension to the character and making Shannon more compatible with reality and Williams.

News Of The Theatres

in Verde Hotel, is played professionally by Charlotte Forbes. She exudes an earthy charm, difficult to imagine
from the script alone and quite refreshing to see on stage.

A Vibrant Portrayal. With
the most difficult role of all,
Jezebel Savidge turns the easily overplayed Hannah Jelkes into a vibrant character. Ignoring the problems of making up a pretty coed hardly old enough to vote, as a middle-aged New England
spinster, she skillfully dominates the second act as Miss Forbes does the first.

Peter Evans plays Hannah's grandfather, a 97-year-old poet, to near perfection, despite some lines rather ingruous with the senile curiosity piece that is Nonno. Giulia Pasano gives the stereotyped role of a seduced teenager, Charlotte Goodall, an entirely unexpected depth, enhanced by her beauty.

As Miss Fellowes, leader of an 11-woman Mexican tour
from Baptist Female College, Marie Miller does a very humorous caricature of a Southern prude, despite an almost-British accent, although the character fails to fit into the mood
of the play.

Larry Strichman and Ed
Townley, playing Jake Latta
and Hank, were no more than competent, although an attempt to make more of them would be a mistake. Jon Lor-rain as Fanchio and Chuck Bernstein as Pedro are amusing enough in their informal subservience to detract at times from the actions of the main characters.

Richard Williams' lighting

is excellent, conveying well
three periods during the day.
His set, a wooden veranda
frame with adjoining rooms,
was also successful, though it raises problems of closing non-existent doors and hiding people behind non-existent walls.
Despite a slow start and occasional deficiencies, "Ignana," which will be staged again July 5, 12 and 13, is a good solid production, well worth seeing. The talent of the performers and the production
in general augurs well for future's summer season.

ROBERT WARNER

Prince, Playhouse, Greenwood

The Odd Couple (now playing) Nobody writing plays today gets as much fun out of strange ordinary people and the quite ordinary things they do as Neil Simon. Author of a series of Broadway successes in the '60s he appeals to all types of audiences through the simplicity and universality of the situations he comically develops.

The poker game at the beginning of "The Odd Couple"
is hilarious largely because the gag lines are rooted in character — five distinct personalities with ways all their own.

The plot is an old one — fit
an apron on a man and the women start laughing. In this case, a husband estranged
from his wife meets with a recently-divorced friend.
They soon find themselves hik-
ering with a common sense
the same way they have with their spouses.

The humor comes from character — Jack Lemmon in the role Art Carney created on the stage, fuss-budget, compulsive cleaner-upper — and Walter Matthau from the Broadway cast as the casual type
who likes a little dirt around the house. Matthau's performance is a masterpiece of comic timing. Lemmon, who will never match Art Carney as a comedian, gives the role an added edge of pathos while never neglecting humor.

The only women in the cast
are Monica Evans and Carole Shelley, also of the Broadway cast. They are priceless as the sisters who the heroes date
one evening with disastrous results.

And there is a moment of sublime rebellion when Mat-
thau walks on the furniture,
wipes his feet on the curtains
and aims a plate of spaghetti
at the kitchen wall. Young and old will enjoy it.

GARDEN and TRENT

The Detective (now playing)
This is a short Simon piece
for those with an appetite for the sensational. The apparent tone is highly moralistic, with Sinatra cast as an "honest"
cop who has a sympathetic
and humanistic approach to criminals and a simplistic awareness of sociological problems.

What the picture actually
does is present for the viewer's

IT'S NEW To Us

UP AND AWAY!

In Our 3-Stage Rocket. Pay $1 for the state-required permit, $7 for the minimum set of hardware, and you're off.

We're still wrapping it up at Nassau Hobby, where rocketry is the biggest thing since the invention of the Locomotive train. Rockets, Dr. von Braun will be interested to learn, are made of balsa wood and cardboard tubes — ah, there for economy!

Nassau has them in one, two or three-stage performance brackets, and they can climb to a minimum of 300 feet and a maximum of about 1,200. Talk about stratosphere. Solid fuel propelled what else did you expect?

You need a rocket, a motor, a launching pad. Motors are 30c to 50c and you can go as high as $4 for a kit. A three-stage rocket is $2.95 plus $1.50 for each of the three 50c engines. Just to give you an idea of space-age cost accounting.

"Big Bertha" — Grandpa will love that name — is a 20-inch long single engine rocket. When it reaches a certain altitude, it will reverse its thrust, push out the nose cone which releases a chute, and everything ends with a gentle floating to the ground.

"Coinrock," as you etymologists can guess, has a camera inside. It takes little pictures which you can develop and blow up.

Nassau Hobby also believes in girls. (Maybe girls play rocketry, too, for all we know). Anyhow, the hobby shop is expanding its craft department and if you need love beads, here they are.

Girls make lots of jewelry, they tell us at Nassau Hobby. You can get pierce wires here and the equipment to make wild, mod earrings.

Mod beads are made to be strung. Make necklaces or bracelets, or a little ring if you're lazy. Some of the beads are seed beads, but not morning glory seeds.

Crystallites are plastic granules that melt in your oven, encasing, like a fly in amber, some precious souvenir of "that day" at the beach.

Cellulacry is "instant" papier mache. Decoupage sets in well, you know what decoupage is. With these kits, you color with the crayons provided. Another, called "Victoriana," has some old-fashioned oval portraits and a lot of gold cord, and you work from there.

With each decoupage kit, you get paste sealer, flat oil paint and varnish. The possibilities for decoration are quite infinite, of course. Wastebaskets, little wooden boxes, trays — anything will respond to the cut-and-paste decorating technique.

For That JULY 4th COOK-OUT

We have everything you need: grills, barbecue tools, charcoal lighter, lawn chairs, bug repellent, picnic baskets, jugs and ice chests.

URKEN'S

27 Witherspoon St.
924-3076

But our favorite at Nassau Hobby remains the "N" gauge train, those miniatures with locomotives a full two inches long. They have "N" people now, and animals — horses and things. A good strapping adult male stands a shade over half an inch high.

SPIN IN SUMMER

With A New Record. Send your son or daughter, complete with allowance, to the Music Center on Palmer Square with instructions to buy the $19.95 Panasonic record player.

It's light as a pop tune, battery-run (the price includes them) but adaptable to house current, if that's your pleasure. Great for taking along when you're invited for a slumber party.

On it you play that new record from "The Cream."

Meantime, others in the family are listening to Herb Alpert's tenth and newest record, "The Best of the Brass." The dreamy younger sister upstairs is playing one of a zillion new recordings of the Mozart 21st Piano Concerto. That's the one that provided background for "Elvira Madigan" — you remember! (At least, it got the kids to listen to Mozart).

Schoenberg is represented for serious musicians by a pair of new albums just issued by Columbia and now available at The Music Center. And "Electronics and Percussion" the new album by Max Neuhaus, is a good step to make after Schoenberg.

Cassette tape recorders are for ladies who can thread a crewel embroidery needle but can never cope with conventional tape. All you do is — drop in the cassette. Music Center has several brands, roughly $65 or so.

We leave it to the last: the transistor radio. AM from $9.95, and it gets WABC like a dream. AM-FM at $26.95. Talk about air pollution!

Here it is, with its tiny green leaves, wide spaced against white, in a giant soft patio tea-
pot. It's late 18th or early 19th century.

It shows again, "Sprig"
does, on an ironstone bowl and
once more on an exquisite
brite piece set in bone china:
a tiny tea set, delicate saucer
and dessert plate under both.

Spatier is a technique used by some Staffordshire potters
to import for the Pennsylvania Dutch trade. Country Antiques has a charming blue and white pitcher with spatter design
and some small bowls in wide
stripes of different color spatters.

Staffordshire also contributed five (five!) sugar bowls
the same size, with different classic Staffordshire scenes on each.

Box collectors will want the Bible box (big enough for the family Bible); the 8 x 10 inch walnut writing desk or the tea
caddy with its recessed brass handle.

But we're taking home the "African thumb piano." It's about the size of a gourd, with a carved wooden sounding
board that looks like a bowl,
and a "keyboard" of 11 metal bands in varying lengths to

Against the Sun

It's a delicious little para-
sol, although they called them
"umbrellas" in the Paris of 1837.

You'll find an "umbrella"
at Country Antiques on Nassau Street, and we'll bet you pay the $18 and take it home.

Carved ivory makes the little handle and the finial
on the top. The parasol itself — only a shy 18 inches in diameter — is made of two layers of fine white silk overlaid with black Alençon lace. The Country Antiques
lady tells us that parasols
like this sold for $75 to $100
in Paris a century ago, and when you think what $100
meant 100 years ago — today's $18 is quite a bargain.

eld Printing 21 Church Street, reported to police that a 22-inch side window had been shattered by a beer bottle. Township police report a front store window at Bovino's Market, 32 Leigh Avenue, with three small holes in it, apparently the target of an air rifle. They said the window was broken between 7:30 Fri. day evening and 10:30 the next morning.

STRONGBOX IS TAKEN
A strongbox and various articles of jewelry were stolen last week from the home of Richard M. Stout, 918 Kingston Road.

An employee of the Penn Central Railroad later discovered the strongbox near the tracks off Canal Street, not far from the Trenton Freeway. He turned it over to police.

Township police report the door of the strongbox had been pried open and its contents were missing. Just what those contents were will not be known until the owners return from a trip to Wisconsin, police said.

Police believe the home was entered last Wednesday, shortly after a neighbor had observed two Negro men walking into the Stout driveway. A pati-o door facing Kingston Roadlice said. Detective Robert Heacock is investigating.

UNIVERSITY EMPLOYEES HONORED: Luigi Zalvin, (left), 40 Henry Avenue, and A. George Lynch, 383 Cherry Hill Road, have been given 25-Year Service Awards by Princeton University. Mr. Zalvin, 63, moved to Princeton from Italy in 1931 and has served the university as a dormitory custodian. Mr. Lynch, also 63, serves as general foreman in the university's Division of Plant and Operations. He has lived in Princeton most of his life.

VANDALS VISIT HOMES: Robt Under Construction. Two homes under construction at 74 and 110 Linwood Circle were the target of vandals during the weekend.

Arnold Krauss, superintendent of construction, told Township police that metal corner rods had been hurled through sheetrock walls at the construction site of 74 Linwood, causing $75 worth of damage. At 110 Linwood, the vandals had torn down insulation from different parts of the house. Police added that obscenities had also been gouged into the walls.

Later, the vandals apparently revisited the site at 74, this time stealing a rear door valued at $40 and breaking a window. The homes are being constructed by Benedict Yedlin of 20 Nassau Street.

7 KIDS AND 7 JOBS

Guidance Goes Visking. Seven Princeton young people have summer jobs they might not otherwise have had because the guidance department at Princeton High School played some ping pong at the Youth Center on several June evenings.

After a July break, George Petrillo, head of guidance at P.H.S., and his colleagues will go back to the Center one summer night each week. They will talk with pre-minth graders about the way it is in high school, they will talk over curriculum and jobs and anything else the kids want to talk about. Dates to be announced.

This spring, Mr. Petrillo wrote letters to parents, conferred with parents and teens by telephone and then made direct contact at the Center. He and the teens played ping pong on pool and sat around and talked about what ever seemed to be a question. As a result, Mr. Petrillo got scholarship help for a 57 grad uate of the high school and with Neighborhood Youth Corps funds, placed two young workers in the high school library and got school jobs for the other five.

"Also," says Mr. Petrillo, recalling his June evenings at the Youth Center, "I really sharpened up my pool and ping-pong."

TEEN SHOP APPROVED
By Borough Zoning Board.
The Borough Zoning Board last week gave the green light to Belleville, Inc. of 210 Nassau which plans to convert the first floor of a vacant two-story
home at 6 Moore Street into a teenage dress shop. An August opening is planned.

The board granted two side yard variances, both measuring about 14 feet, and added
that Belleville, owned by Mr.
and Mrs. Lee Bellows, would not have to provide the three off-street parking places that would be required in converting 445 square feet of the first floor from residential to commercial.

The board ruled that an 18-73.3 foot plot of land purchased by the Borough a few years ago, which had been sliced
from the 6 Moore Street lot to provide a driveway to a parking lot at the rear of the Sande Building, 191 Nassau, could be figured in the footage to provide parking. The strip could easily have handled three cars, the board said.

In granting its approval,
the board further stipulated

that the second floor of the house, which is located in a business zone, could not be used for residential purposes.
The cellar would be used for storage by Bellows.

In representing Belleville,
Attorney A. C. Reeves Hicks told the board: "Here we have the old problem of an old building in a business area
that can't possibly comply with modern zoning."

Denied Without Prejudice.
In a second case, the board
denied without prejudice the application of Saverio Man-zone, 40 Jefferson Road, for relief from a 1938 ruling made by the zoning board concerning property at 43-45 Linden
Lane which he purchased in September, 1967.

The issue came to light when
Mr. Manzone sought a building permit to make improvements
on a stucco garage apartment
in the rear of the property which houses two families. He was told, in being denied the permit, that a 1938 zoning rule
stipulated that if the property were ever sold, the rear
building would have to be torn down or remodeled to conform to modern zoning requirements.

The board said that it felt
it could not overrule all the previous decisions made concerning the property. It added that its records indicate that only one family is living in the rear; somewhere along the line, a second, or "boogie"

family moved in without obtaining the necessary permits.

The board ruled that Mr.
Manzone could apply again for a special permit covering the conversion of single family
dwellings into two family dwellings to an R-3 and R-4 zone.
This would require plot plans
of the building reflecting room
sizes, some of which are presently too small.

Attorney David Cramp tried
to argue—and produced several witnesses to substantiate
his point—that the building in the rear had been occupied by two families prior to 1938. The original owner, Mrs. Mary Sullivan, obtained the property in 1924.

From testimony, it was revealed that a second addition was added to the rear in 1932.
As many as three others were added, all, apparently, without building permits.

A neighbor, John Redding, told the board: "The house just grew like Topsy." He added that Mrs. Sullivan "had been in financial trouble—it was the depression—which is why the neighbors closed their eyes." He said he was distressed by the number of people living
there and the way the property
had deteriorated.

The property was purchased in September 1965 by Bernard Weinstein from the estate of Mrs. Sullivan. He said it to Mr.
Manzone.

Yes, to Pool. In a third case,
the board granted setback and side yard variances to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson of 8 Olden Lane to construct a swimming pool on their property at the corner of Olden and Mercer Streets. Because of the pos-sion of large trees, the Bensons
wanted to locate their pool on the side of the house instead of the rear as required by zoning. It was also too close to the main streets, being 35 from Mercer and 52 from Olden Lane. The required distance is 60 feet.

There was no opposition to the application. Mr. Hicks also represented the Bensons.

MAYOR SCHAFER APPLIES
For Vocational Post. Mayor
Carl C. Schafer of Princeton Township, is one of three applicants for the new $15,000-
a-year post of director of vocational education for Mercer County.

Mr. Schafer teaches distributive education at Lawrence
High School in Lawrence Township and previously taught the subject to high school students in Freehold.
This June, he received the master's degree in business education from Rider College.

Before turning to education,
Mr. Schafer owned and operated Schafer's Market.

WINNER ANNOUNCED
For Post 339 Scholarship
Mary Ann Niederbrueening, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Niederbrueening, Van Dyke Road, Hopewell, has been named the winner of
Hopewell Valley Post 339's
$500 scholarship.

The graduate of Hopewell Valley Central High School
plans to major in elementary education at Madison College,
where she will be a freshman
in September. In high school,
she was president of the Future Teachers of America and active in the American Field Service, Girls' Athletic League, Modern Dance Club
and Reading Club. She was also a member of the National Honor Society.

HOSPITAL OPENS LOUNGE
For Relatives of Patients.
A lounge for relatives of patients undergoing surgery at Princeton Hospital has opened, staffed
on weekdays by a volunteer in direct contact with nurses in the surgical recovery room.

An intercom located in the solarium on the hospital's first nursing floor enables the volunteer to get periodic progress

Mrs. William L. Wilson, director of volunteers, said the group will be in operation weekdays from about 8:30 a.m. to 3 or 4 p.m. Coffee and tea will be served and a television set will be available.

Princeton Hospital also provides single-word condition reports by telephone through the Volunteers' Desk, during normal visiting hours. Telephone calls are not transferred in nursing floors except to patients with private telephones.

GOAL SURPASSED

In Fresh Air Fund Drive's goal of 100 families willing to share part of their summer with needy children from New York City has been surpassed. At least 106 youngsters will spend two weeks with families from Princeton and surrounding towns, topping the previous high of 82 in 1965.

Several group activities have been planned for the children, including a family picnic on July 27, for the first arrivals, and another a week later for those arriving August 1. Sponsored by the Princeton Jaycees, the picnics will feature games, contests and the Blawenburg Band.

Mrs. Jane Howe is planning a gathering for the children to hear folk songs by Mrs. Joel Bacher. Other events will include trips to the Walker-Gordon Farms and the Washington Crossing Nature Center. Persons wishing to offer assistance or donations for the picnics and other activities should write to the Jaycees, P.O. Box 324, Princeton.

PROMOTION ANNOUNCED

At Opinion Research, Miss Charlotte E. Slider of Hightstown has been promoted to associate survey director at Opinion Research Corporation where she will be concerned with sampling, statistical analysis and computer applications.

Formerly a research statistician, Miss Slider joined ORC part-time in 1959 while studying at Mt. Holyoke College. She became a permanent member of the staff in 1962, working with the statistics department. After being promoted the following year to supervisor of the sampling department, she left ORC in 1965 to do freelance writing.

A graduate of Princeton High School, she rejoined the ORC staff in 1966 as a research assistant and was promoted to research statistician, a new post, in 1967.

SING-OUT GROUP FORMED

For Area Youth, "Up With People," one of more than 200 singing groups across the nation espousing "responsibility and patriotism for American youth," is practicing every Monday through Thursday at Princeton YMCA for concerts in Princeton, Hightstown, Lawrenceville, Hopewell and Pennington this summer.

Junior high school through college age in the area youths are welcome to the rehearsals, which run from 7 to 9 p.m. For more information, contact Christine Banaie, 10 Princeton Avenue, Hopewell, 466-2210.

SATURDAY SERVICE ENDS

For Library's Summer. All departments of the Princeton Public Library will be closed Saturdays and Sundays during July and August, as well as Thursday, July 4, and Monday, September 2. The book drop located at the south end of the building off the parking yard, may be used whenever the library is closed.

Summer hours for the library are from 9 a.m. Monday through Thursday and from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Friday. Tours for seventh and eighth graders on Monday afternoons during July and August will be sponsored by the library. Free booklets are available at the library for the tour this Monday of Ulli Steltzer's photography studio and her latest exhibit, and the July 15th tour backstage at Theatre Intime. Tours must be limited to children in these classes. For

Another Family Serves

"Princeton in Princeton's service" seems to be a motto for many a Princeton family. ...

A story in last week's Town Topics about Borough employee Penelope Edwards and her late grandfather, George Montgomery, also a Borough employee, brought to light still another Borough family.

Patrolman Thomas Proccacio, a member of the borough force since December, 1958, is the grandson of the late Sgt. Thomas Murray, who wore the Borough police uniform for nearly 30 years. He joined in October 17, 1926 and died in service on January 28, 1955.

Further information, see Jo Moore at the library.

NOVEL DISPLAY SET

For Fourth's Pyrotechnics. Among new fireworks planned for American Legion Post 6's Independence Day display are an eclipse of the sun, racing serpents, jeweled fountain and trick bicycle ride, beginning Thursday at 9:30.

p.m. in Palmer Stadium. Entertainment prior to the hour-long pyrotechnics will be given at 8 p.m., with vaudervill by Treuton performer and a concert by the 173rd Army band from Fort Dix.

Alex Proccacio, chairman of parking and traffic for the post, has asked vehicles approaching Palmer Stadium from the south to take Washington Road to Faculty Road, proceeding east on Faculty Road, to parking lots. From the west, take Washington Prospect Avenue, turn east on Prospect to FitzRandolph, and south on FitzRandolph to parking guides. From the east and east, take Harrison St. to Western Way, where heads west.

Rain dates for the presentation are Saturday and Sunday. If the Saturday date is rained out, on both nights on Thursday, Stadium will open at 7 p.m., with entertainment scheduled for 8 p.m. and fireworks for 9:30 p.m.

TOWN TOPICS reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office, B.P. 1000. For more information, see the Princeton newspaper does half a well.

MAILBOX

Petition "Deeply Disturbing."
To the Editor of Town Topics:
I am not so much disturbed by our school board's decision against the re-naming of Community Park school after a great fallen leader. Naming an inanimate building after a man who was such a dynamic moral force in this country would be a kind of symbolic sop to the white conscience.

We should not and cannot be let off that easily. There must be a better, more imaginative meaningful way to honor Martin Luther King.

But I feel deeply disturbed, disgusted and saddened that 60 people petitioned against the proposed use of Martin Luther King's name on the grounds that he was a controversial figure. Which great moral leader has not been controversial? Jesus? Tom Paine?

Would they rather have commemorative plaques to semi-anonymous vice presidents of computer corporations? Would that be safer for our society? Who would satisfy their strange requirements, which would certainly rule out, among others, all those notorious characters who founded this country?

One cannot quarrel with any citizen's right to petition about what concerns him. But I hope that the Princeton community, as individuals and as a whole, will find some means to make it known to those, who are so narrowly blind, if not worse, that they stand very much alone, that we looked to Martin Luther King as a prophet (for our time and have all sustained an irreparable loss.

Kill the Gun Bill
To the Editor of Town Topics:
Notice to all the bleeding hearts that are stupid to believe that a gun control law can be effective: First let us start with Prohibition.

A lot of good well meaning people were behind this but what a failure that turned out to be and the results are still with us today: rotten whiskey drunk by nearly everyone including the youth, the gangster mobs that were formed to control the making and selling of illicit alcohol are still with us such as the number racket, slot machines, betting and gambling of all types and the Mafia controlled businesses.

Let us check the records of history of countries where gun controls were enforced. Hitler suppressed any opposition by confiscating all the firearms because he was able to know where they were as a result of the mandatory registration of them. You all know what happened to the common people of Germany and many other countries where gun control was enforced.

Bank robbers and other criminals do not purchase firearms thru lawful channels and do not register them regard less of current laws or statutes. Check the records and you will find most people are injured or killed by a blunt instrument or sharp objects. According to the news media there are ten times more deaths caused by motor vehicles than by firearms.

American heritage was founded by the use of firearms to protect the decent people and those who were not able to defend themselves. And for generations Americans have fought with firearms to keep this country free that even we can write this article. We make a case that everyone with vision does not make the same mistakes that other countries made that have lost them their freedom.

So please write to your Senators and Congressmen to vote against a strong gun law which would remove the freedom guaranteed us in our Constitution.

Everytime we give politicians more power over us we lose the same amount. A firearm is as American as our flag. We want them both to protect us and our loved ones and our descendants. We appeal to everyone to think and

KNOW YOUR FRIENDS
Police Advise Children, Detective Norman Servis of Princeton Township Police urges all children to be on guard
during the summer months against strangers who may suggested things they know to be wrong.

He offers the following advice, which has been compiled by the Mercer County Prosecutor's Office.

- Never hitch hike or accept rides from persons you do not know.
- Never take money, candy
or gifts of any kind from any stranger.
- Never go with strangers
who ask you for directions to some place.
- Never go inside another person's home or agree to work for strangers without first telling your parents, and never play alone in alleys, deserted buildings, in woods or on the beach.
- Never loiter around public toilets in theatres or other buildings, and never let strangers touch you; if they do, tell your parents immediately.
- Use the "buddy" system when you go for a walk, to the playground, the movies or on a bike — never go alone.
- Never tarry on the way.
If you have to be late telephone ahead.

Noting that a Township girl was molested recently, Detective Servis urged parents to call police if they notice any suspicious persons in a room
or their homes. "Don't worry about making a mistake," he said. "The important thing is to report any suspicious action as soon as it happens so the police can act."

FINAL PLANS MADE
For Pennington's July 4th.
The Board of Directors of the Pennington YMCA and the Borough Council have approved
final plans for the town's July 4th celebration Thursday.
Boy Scout Troop 41 will begin the day's festivities at 10
a.m. with a Salute to the Flag, at the Toll Gate School
Athletic Field. The Rev. Don-

THE GAVEL PASSES: New Princeton Lions Club president William Karch, left, accepts the Lions' gavel from outgoing president Bernard Glover, as International Councilor Vincent Lassaly, who conducted the installation of new officers, looks on. Other officers installed were Robert Mys-ers, first vice-president, William Klefer, second vice-president, Dr. Frank Easter, third vice-president, James Kan-non, secretary, Nelson Thompson, treasurer, Phil Porado, Lion Lamer, Donald Brune, tall twister; and Guy Bensinger
and Harold Traze, directors.

ald Thiel of the First Presbyterian Church of Pennington
will deliver an invocation.

At 10:15 a.m., games will begin, for age groups 4 to 6, 7
to 9 and 10 to 13. Dashes, battles, a potato race, baseball
throw, basketball throw and peanut scramble are planned.
Prizes for the events will be awarded at noon.

Ray Dippel heads the committee making arrangements for the celebration, assisted
by Irv Gaydos, Kurt Rahls, Jim Mitchell and other members of the Pennington YMCA
board, headed by William Schwab, incoming president,
and Thomas Mooney, outgoing president.

TWO LOSE LICENSES
For Speeding in Connecticut. Two Princeton drivers have had their licenses suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles under a reciprocity agreement for speeding in Connecticut.
They are Antonio Lupo, 39,
15 Hillside Road, and Carol L.
McCracken, 18, 27 Olden Lane.
Each was halted for one month.

CITIZENS TO PLAY ROLE
In W.W. Education Planning.
West Windsor Township Board
of Education last week approved a plan for a citizens'
advisory committee to study
educational problems and
make reports to the Board.
Dr. William Stuart was named to head the citizens'
group, which will concentrate on school organization, curriculum, supporting services
such as guidance, health and athletics, financial resources,
building sites and construction
needs.

The West Windsor Board
expressed hope that the group's reports would reflect
the attitudes and desires of the community towards our educational system."

The Board also said it was
"prepared to consider" expenditures for the citizens' committee, to include professional consultation fees, transportation costs and funds for public distribution of the group's reports.

ASTRONOMERS PLAN TALK
On Clusters and Galaxies.
Joseph L. Richey of Princeton University highlights the next meeting of the Amateur Astronomers' Association of Princeton, set for 8 p.m., Tuesday, July 9, at the Princeton YMCA. He will speak on star clusters and galaxies, particularly the Milky Way.
The program will also include a film, "The Realm of the Galaxies," highlighting

Dr. Donald H. Riddle, 63 Deer Path, has been appointed president of the City University of New York's John Jay College of Criminal Justice, which trains more than 2,000 students annually, most of whom serve as officers with the New York City Police Department.

Dr. Riddle, acting president of the college since the death of president Leonard E. Reisman in December, has served as professor of government and dean of the faculty since the school was founded in 1863. He will now administer baccalaureate and graduate programs for students of law enforcement, probation, parole, correctional training and other public service careers.

A former member of the Princeton Board of Education, he will receive a salary of $32,000. A native of Brooklyn, Dr. Riddle earned B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees at Princeton University, where he also served on the faculty, in the politics department and the Program in American Civilization. From 1952 to 1953 he was assistant professor of government and was professor of political science and director of research at Rutgers University's Englewood Institute before joining the CUNY faculty.

Dr. Riddle, a consultant in the founding of the Jay College, will assume control of the college's expansion program, as enrollment is expected to increase to 10,000 in the next five years.

America, the great melting pot.

America features the best features of other cars:

1. Rolls-Royce Silver Shadow—roominess. (America, in fact, is roomier!)
2. Cadillac Eldorado—front wheel drive. (Powers through mud and snow.)
3. Oldsmobile Toronado—short rear deck. (Greater visibility, easier parking.)
4. Ford Mustang—automatic/manual transmission. (He shifts; she takes off in "drive.")

5. Volkswagen—economy. (Up to 30 miles per gallon.)

6. Greyhound Bus—all-around vision. (My car, the window.)

7. Austin America—crosswise-mounted engine. (Maximum traction, minimum vibration.) Another original idea: price, $1845. Making America—the first car built to be a second car—the lowest-priced car with an automatic transmission.

SERIOUS HALF-DAY PLAN: Curt Stoy approves of the Wednesday afternoon closing plan scheduled to go into effect in the Princeton public school system in January, saying: "It's good to have a break in the middle of the week." He thinks the program will help the students. (Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question: What is your opinion of the controversial Wednesday afternoon closing for Princeton public schools which is scheduled to go into effect next January?

Where asked: Around town.

Mrs. Patrick Connolly, State Road, housewife: I'm all for it. I had the same type of schooling in Europe — one afternoon free in midweek for sports. I don't think it hurts me at all. I have two children in the high school now.

Mrs. Edith Lazavsky, 31 Bertrand Drive, housewife: I don't like it — mainly because I'm working and I'm selfish. I want them to stay in school. I don't see why they have to give them the afternoon off.

Mrs. Jeanne Ingwersen, 133 Mount Lucas Road, housewife: I have two children at the high school and I feel it should be tried. I'm all for this type of thing if there is a plan. Also, I'd support Mr. Michael in any way. He's great! Just great. We've lived in a number of school systems and the best ones have been those which have experimented and tried new things. If it doesn't work — okay, you've tried. The best example of this I can give is Evanston High School in Illinois. They're always trying new things and it is still one of the ten best high schools in the country. Sometimes there is opposition but I think you have to try. You can't stand pat.

Mrs. Anne Moffat, Kingston Road, actress: I sure think the kids and teachers should get together and do some talking. If they could use it for that sort of thing, it would be fine. They could get a little more communication between the students and the teachers at Valley Road School. I'm not opposed to the plan but I do feel they could be a little more specific about what they are going to do. If they can promote cooperation between the faculty and the students, both out problems — fine!

Mrs. Walter Wilson, 210 Constitution Drive, housewife: I think, theoretically, it's a good idea. If the teachers and staff talk over the curriculum and try to improve it in any way that's good. I don't think there is any definite plan, however, as to what will happen to the children. I'm not one of those who thinks every minute of their time has to be planned but I do think some kind of enrichment program would be very good. I believe it would be very difficult for the school system to offer anything more than remedial work for the children in school because of a lack of staff and people to man the school. The Wednesday afternoon substitute program is still very vague — if there is going to be one. I agree with Dr. Rothberg, who says that the program is still quite nebulous. Theoretically, it's good but it needs more research.

Curt Stoy, 196 Mangrove Road, student, Mercer County Community College: I think it is a good idea. It's good to have a break in the middle of the week like that. It helps the student.

Mrs. W. Pepper Constable, Rosedale Road, housewife: I think it's fine. It gives the children an opportunity to catch up on themselves, to go to the library or do some research. I don't think it hurts them at all. Of course, some children will just say "whoopie" but I'll certainly see that my children do something constructive with it — even if it is just going to the dentist. I think the teachers need a break, too. I don't see anything wrong with it, although I suppose it will be hard, as the papers say, on the working mothers.

Elliot Kaufman, Lawrence Apartments, graduate student, biochemistry: I'd be against that on the grounds: as a graduate student here at Princeton I look back and feel that any more time I could have spent in school would have been well worth it. For every minute they spend in school, countless people are coming up with new facts for them to learn. I think they should use every minute of schooling they can get.

Miss Ellen Oppenheim, 40 VanDyke Road, student, University of Wisconsin: I feel it depends on the worth of the program they have for the teachers — how constructive and how profitable it is. I do feel they have to be clearer on what they intend to do.

Samuel Waters, 115 Leigh Avenue, janitor: I'm opposed to that. They're taking some time off from the kids. They have enough time off in the summer. What are the kids going to do Wednesday afternoons, especially the ones in lower grades? They've got nothing to do.

Miss Pam Sands, Princeton Junction, student, Middle Tennessee State University: I think it is pretty good and worth trying. I just graduated from Princeton High School but I don't feel we got cheated because when we were going we got out at 10 to 3. Next year, they are going to have to go 'til 3:30 except on Wednesdays. I don't feel cheated.

Eugene Mayberry, Lawrence Township, custodian for Princeton Public Library: I'm opposed to it because I feel the kids have too much time off now. When I went to school, I never heard of these half-days. Nowadays, every time you turn around the kids have off. When they're home the parents don't know what to do with them. To me, it's just another opportunity for the kids to get into mischief.

SPORTS in Princeton

OLYMPIC TRIALS GOAL.
Of 5 Tiger Crewmen. Five members of Princeton University's varsity crew have joined the Olympic Hopping Camp at M.I.T. to work out for eight weeks for a place in the Olympic Trials.

Outgoing captain Pete Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Macpherson Raymond, Cherry Valley Road, heads the Tiger crewmen, who also include captain-elect Ray Wright, Dave Walleander, Doug Foy and Co-swain Vernon Lix.

After several regattas in the U.S. and Canada, the boaters with the best showings will move to Long Beach, Calif., for the Olympic Trials.

Princeton's heavy weight eight just only twice this spring, to EARC spring champion Harvard and IRA titlelet Pennsylvania. In the IRA Regatta at Syracuse, the Tigers finished third behind Penn and Washington.

DOW JONES UPSETS RCA.
Hands Losers First Defeat. RCA's bid for a perfect season went by the boards last week in the Business Softball League, as a resurgent Dow Jones team upended the league leaders, 2-6, and dropped them into a first place tie with RCA Astro in the western division. Astro whipped Educational Testing, which has yet to win a game, 13-2.

Dow Jones batters wasted no time in going after their first win of the season, reaching losing pitcher Wally Reichert for six runs in the first inning. Joe Zino went the route for the winners. John Myers blasted a double, triple and home run for RCA.

In the east, Accelerator and McGraw Hill each won to continue the tie for first, but NCA knocked off the water front-runner, Columbian. Carbo won the tie for first, but was nixed for only one tally. Butera along with Pat Young led RCA at the plate with three hits apiece.

Accelerator sent ORC to its eighth consecutive defeat, 17-0, with Tony Gervasio, Brady Lawrence and John Ruzick, each collecting three hits apiece. Darrell Dehn earned in two fine fielding plays in left field. ORC managed to load the bases with one out in the fifth, and put two on with one away in the sixth, but could not produce a run.

Four hits apiece by Jim Maher and Larry Lee led McGraw Hill to an 18-7 triumph over RCA B. Joe Dwy had three hits including a four bagger for the winners. Gene Polinski and Ron Brutsche weighed in with three safeties for RCA B.

ORC fell two games off the pace in the west, making the race there look more and more like a two-team battle, losing to EMC 11-10. A ninth inning single by Jerry Mitchell drove in the winning run. Dave Schiavolin and Wally Johnson clouted homers in the contest.

In other games Shell Chemical reached the .500 mark, with a 4-2 victory over EMC. Cyanamid also climbed back to .500 for the season, beating Hopewell TV, 5-3.

In the standings, Antlers has a perfect 3-0 record. Died for second are Teague and Hinds and Center Sports, both 5-4; followed by Ivy Inn, 4-4; Nassau Conover and Trojman's Stars, both 4-5; Harrison Athletic Club, 2-6; and U-Store, 1-7. Ivy and Harrison AC played to a 4-4 tie last week.

There were live contests Thursday evening. Although Antlers Sportsmen scored seven runs in both the sixth and seventh innings, they needed them all and more to outlast Teague and Hinds, 19-17. Bill Cavanaugh was the winning pitcher. Bob Bartlett taking the loss for Teague and Hinds, which scored four in the first, four in the second and six in the sixth.

Center Sports combined for 10 runs in the first two innings to defeat Nassau Conover and pitcher Tom Brophy, 11-5. John Fitzpatrick was the winning pitcher. Trojman's Stars pushed across four runs in both the second and sixth 12-8. Rick Vonnack absorbed the loss.

In a second game, Center Sports dropped a 5-5 decision to Ivy Inn. Keith Van Note getting the win. Ivy scored four in the first to take charge early in the game. Princeton U-Store won by forfeit from Ivy Inn in a fifth contest.

In three outings Wednesday, the U-Store edged Harrison AC, 10-9. Antlers did the same to Trojman's Stars, 7-6; Teague and Hinds won by forfeit from Nassau Conover; Bill Cavanaugh of Antlers and Sandy Proccentini of U-Store were the winning pitchers.

day, Teague's went from a 10-run first inning to defeat the U-Store, 17-11. The first seven batters for Teague got on safely. Blanked for the first five innings, the losers finally scored winning pitcher Bob Barlett for nine runs in the last inning but the game had already been stolen from them. Rick Cunningham was the losing hurler.

In other games, John Fitzpatrick bested Gene Bryant of Trotman's in a 20-15 slugfest; Antlers defeated Nassau County, 12-9. Bill Cavanaugh picked up his third win of the week; and Ivy Inn and Harrison 40 played to a 4-4 tie. Ivy led in hits, 17 to 14.

Earlier in the week, Nassau County scored in every inning (the first five read, 3-4-3-4-3) to trounce Harrison, 18-8. Frank Zalvingo of the victors connected for the game's only homer. Tom Brophy coasted home as the winner.

Floyd Phox and George McVaugh each blasted a pair of home runs and Chester Wooten connected once as Trotman's belted the U-Store, 14-6, and an easy win for Gene Bryant. The winners tallied three times in each of the first three innings.

Bill Cavanaugh and Antlers teamed up to win another, this one a 16-10 triumph over Center Sports. Held scoreless for the first three innings by hurler Jim Brown, Antlers scored four in the fourth and broke the game open with five-run outbursts in the sixth and seventh innings.

Ivy Inn won by forfeit from Teague's.

Obituaries

Dr. Elbert B. O. Bergerhoff, 60, of 114 Broadmead, died June 30 in Princeton Hospital. He was Class of 1900 Professor of Modern Languages at Princeton University.

Dr. Bergerhoff graduated from Princeton with Phi Beta Kappa honors in 1930, and joined the university faculty. He received his doctorate in 1934 and became a full professor in 1932. He had held his endowed chair since 1956. His published works included two books on the French theatre.

During World War II, Dr. Bergerhoff, a native of Cleveland, O., served with the U.S. Navy as a communications officer with the rank of lieutenant commander.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Cornelia N. Bergerhoff; two daughters, Jane, Elizabeth and Leslie.

The service was scheduled to be held at 2 p.m. this Wednesday in Princeton University Chapel, with burial in Princeton Cemetery. Arrangements are under direction of the Maier Funeral Home.

Contributions in his memory may be made to The Friends of the Princeton University Library.

Morris Kammerman, 67, of 32 Bank Street, died suddenly June 26 at Princeton Hospital. Born in Austria, Mr. Kammerman lived in Princeton for 60 years. He retired in 1960 after many years as a maintenance man of the Princeton University department of grounds and buildings. He was a member of the United Jewish Appeal.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs.

Norah Kammerman, and a nephew in Israel.

A graveside service was held in Cedar Lane Cemetery, Rabbi I. Levin of Congregation People of Truth, Trenton, officiating.

Alvin I. Warren, 67, died June 30 at his home, 110 South Main Street, Pennington. A native of Trenton, he had lived in Pennington most of his life.

Mr. Warren was a former police chief of Pennington and also served as head of the fire company in that community. He was a retired guard of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co. A veteran of World War II, he was a member of the Mercer County Fire Chiefs' Association.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Warren, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. 9-24 W. Steiner, with whom he lived. The service was held at a Pennington funeral home, the Rev. Kollo A. Michael of the Pennington Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in Pennington Cemetery.

Question Of The Week

Cathi Saho, 31, of Overton Avenue, PHB Freshman: I think it's great. You need a break in the middle of the week just to relax. I think everybody will get more work done.

Janice Evans, 266 Shady Brook Lane, eighth grader, Community Park School: I don't know. You can get out and brush up on some stuff like research.

Ann Lessing, 27 Marion Road E., eighth grader, Valley Road School: I like it because it splits the week. You get to do different things; it's not so boring.

Topics Of The Week

schools in Princeton are eligible to attend.

"The Grape Society" includes drummer Bill Skillman, Doug Hays on bass, Carlos Nany on rhythm guitar, Ted Goreau on lead guitar and organist Mark Hall. Further information is available from the Recreation Department, 921-9180.

MEETING MONDAY

For Ladies Auxiliary, The Ladies Auxiliary of the Princeton Junction Fire Company will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the firehouse on Alexander Road. Membership is open to any woman in West Windsor Township, regardless of whether her husband is a member of the fire department.

TELEPHONE LINES USED

To Transmit Handwriting. When you use an electronics professor, almost anything is possible, even teaching steno-typing classes some eight or nine miles apart.

From their offices in Princeton University's Engineering Quadrangle, Dr. George Warfield, professor of electrical engineering and Dr. George R. Binkowski, assistant professor of aerospace and mechanical sciences, have used telephone lines and inexpensive electronic equipment to transmit their handwriting and voices to research groups in Bound Brook, Penns Neck and Hopewell.

Using a Victor Electronic Remote Backboard (VERB) to turn handwriting into electronic signals sent over telephone lines, and a second line to carry on a dialogue with the class, Dr. Binkowski teaches "Mechanics in Engineering" every Monday and Wednesday afternoon to 15 employees in Union Carbide Corporation's Plastics Division in Bound Brook.

Later on, Dr. Warfield holds a course in Introduction to Solid State Electronics, given simultaneously to 22 members of the RCA David Sarnoff Research Center in Penns Neck and 17 members of the Western Electronic Engineering Research Center in Hopewell.

Part of a pilot project began last summer with a National Science Foundation grant of $13,346, the Princeton experiment has several advantages over the closed-circuit television system sometimes used for teaching purposes. The Princeton professors are ever "on camera," but sitting unobserved in their own offices. Two-way written and spoken communication is possible, and, as in a conference telephone call, the instructor can be connected to any number of different class rooms at one time.

Another advantage over television is financial. After an initial outlay of up to $4,000 for the VEB apparatus, the equipment is as inexpensive as a telephone, as operation costs are only those of a phone call. Transportation costs are also eliminated.

Merrill's Toy Corner

For this week's 1st I recommend Sculpey, the plastic modeling compound for amateurs and professionals.

This material is non-toxic, ready to use, safe, non-drying and all ways pliable. However, if your efforts result in a masterpiece, it bakes permanently hard in your oven.

Please excuse our discontinued appearance. Our larger, completely remodeled store should be complete in about 30 days. Meanwhile, I have been buying many new and unusual toys which you will find after our remodeling is complete. We will also have an exclusive import of toys containing many quality toys.

The GREATEST . . . BEST . . . FASTEST . . . How many times have you seen and heard these words in ads selling service? We admit, we've used them ourselves. But we have found that you can't sell a service with superlatives! We simply say that we think our TV Repair Service is merely better than adequate . . . it's only GOOD.

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers . . . which is, after all, our ultimate goal!

Do us a service . . . call 921-8500 today so that we may serve you!

LONG, LOW, WELCOMING—
 AND AIR-CONDITIONED TOO

This beautifully maintained story
 and a half colonial in a prime area west of town could be a real buy for some lucky executive.
 Ten years young, and built by Pearson — a name that stands for quality — the house offers extraordinary
 one floor living now, with good expansion possibilities in the walk up attic area. Presently, there are three bedrooms, two baths, and a study that can double as guest
 room; the living room has a fireplace,
 and there is a welcoming summer porch opening from the dining room — wonderful for summer meals. All on a beautiful landscaped one and three quarter acre lot, a 40' driveway that is hard to beat. A new listing and one that won't last long at $68,500

LAKE LOVERS, TAKE NOTE

This much admired ranch (a contemporary gem) in the Riverside area is available here for the first time. Custom built by its owner and in perfect order, we recommend it wholeheartedly.

Informal in feeling with a large dining area and some excellent paneling, flexible in its use with a large hideaway room with private outside entrance off the master bedroom, suitable for a family with 4 bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths, large family room and private screened porch.

It is also aesthetically lovely from the beautifully preserved redwood exterior to the outstanding landscape architecture and desirable with its lake view and access thereto from the rear border. Air-conditioning, carpeting, two car garage and fireplace of course. $89,000

Our other outstanding contemporary ranch on 1 1/2 private acres on Honey Lake must be seen to be believed. Besides 4 fireplaces and the most beautiful kitchen sitting room we have ever seen, it boasts more imaginative features than any other ten homes. 3 bedrooms, 3 1/2 baths, fabulous family room, complete carpeting, outdoor fireplace and wood-burning stoves. $86,500
